

FCI Judge Manola POGGESI, ITALY

Manola is a teacher of Italian and Latin in a Scientific Lyceum (secondary Institute) near Florence.

She started breeding Dalmatians in 1987 with prefix “del Parnaso” and produced a lot of Italian, International and World Champions. For a short time she bred Lhasa Apsos, too.

Licensed to judge since 1994. She has judged in many countries, including Germany, Croatia (European Dog Show), Sweden, Switzerland, France, Portugal, Spain, Belgium, Serbia, Russia (Specialty for Retrievers, Shih Tzus, Poodles, Chow Chows), Ukraine, Italy, Finland (Winner Helsinki), Hungary, Czech Rep, Norway, Australia, Baltic states.

She’s a specialist for all breeds in the Companion and Toy dog group, as well as for Dachshunds, Retrievers, Scenthounds and Sighthounds.

Manola actively contributed during the foundation of the Italian Dalmatian Club where she is an active member. She is the President of the Italian Spitz Club and a member of the technical Committee of the Italian Bassethound Club.

She wrote two books about the Dalmatian dog and a number of articles published in different specialized magazines.

She is an FCI all-rounder judge.